Form 990, Part III Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Line 4 Describe the exempt purpose achievements

Ronald McDonald House at Stanford owns and operates Ronald McDonald House (House) in Palo Alto, adjacent to the Stanford Medical Center and Lucile Packard Children's Hospital. The House creates a home-away-from-home and supportive community for families of children with life-threatening illnesses receiving specialized treatment at local hospitals. The facility provides temporary lodging to families of seriously ill children who must leave their own community to seek medical care for their child. The House can accommodate 47 families per night.

Families of critically ill children age 18 and under are referred to Ronald McDonald House by physicians and social workers. The House requests only a nominal $10 per night, per family, which defrays only a small part of the cost of housing the family. No family is ever turned away due to inability to pay. The House is an approved lodging facility for families covered by California Children's Services, insurance plans of many other states, plus Kaiser and other insurance companies.

The average length of stay at the House has risen dramatically as medical advances allow doctors to treat evermore critically ill children. The House provided services to more than 560 families in 2009. While the average length of stay for a family in 2009 was 20 days, more than 60% of the House rooms were needed for long-term families.

In order to assist families who are staying at the House for long-term stays, the House staffs Teen and Children's Activity Rooms, plus a computer lab. Long-term families require more activities, especially for young children who might be far from home for long periods of time. Activities that build a strong community at the House provide therapeutic benefits to children and families and aid in healing. Keeping a regular routine helps families maintain a sense of normalcy while living away from home.

A Home-Away-From-Home

An accommodations manager on staff is responsible for ensuring that the 47 rooms are fully utilized in keeping with the House's mission to provide a home-away-from-home for as many families as possible.

Approximately 100 volunteers support the guests and staff of the Ronald McDonald House by providing registration, office assistance, activity coordination, meal preparation for families, and building maintenance. In addition, 15 volunteers staff a Computer Learning for Ill Kids (CLIK) program and a computer room with internet access where families have access to email; young patients can keep up with their studies and relax with computer games.

The House uses volunteers to staff:

- Front Desk
- Children's & Teens' Activity Rooms
- CLIK Room

Services provided for the families are what truly make this House a "home away from home," enabling mom and dad to focus on caring for their sick child. Family activities provide an environment where organic and informal support groups are formed, stress levels are decreased, and small “escapes” can be enjoyed. Over 30 Volunteers support the following programs that bring joy and comfort to families during a very difficult time:

- Meals for Munchkins
- Healing Arts Programs
- Gardening
- Massage Therapy
- Family Portraits
- Holiday events & activities

Additionally, volunteers provide vital support for the House mission as members of the House Board of Directors and to help create the House’s annual fundraising events. In 2009 volunteers provided over 17,000 hours of time for an estimated value of over $343,000, dramatically reducing the need for hired staff.

More than Shelter

The House nurtures the whole family in addition to the critically ill child. Healing and personal well-being form the framework for comprehensive programming at Ronald McDonald House at Stanford. It is our mission to create an environment where adults and children feel nurtured and safe, and where programs are offered that enrich their lives while ameliorating the stress of complex critical treatments like open-heart surgery, kidney, lung or liver transplants, radiation, or bone marrow transplants. What a family receives when they stay at the House is much more than the building itself provides. They receive the support of all the other families occupying the 47 rooms in the House. Together they share the good news and the bad, the joy and the grief. They cook together in the community kitchen, share tables in the dining room, and play with their kids in the computer lab and activity room.

A Well-Maintained Facility

The House offers a trusted environment for critically ill children to stay including two wings specifically designed for children with suppressed immune systems due to heart, lung or stem cell transplants. Lucile Packard Children’s Hospital doctors have said that they are more likely to discharge a patient sooner, if they know the child is going to stay at the House. To ensure a well maintained facility, the House has a Preventative Maintenance Program to keep all systems in good operating condition. This program is continually undergoing evaluation to ensure that costs are contained and the House facilities are maintained in working order. The House has embarked on a green initiative, replacing all cleaning products with green alternatives, and is evaluating all areas to discover where additional environmentally sustaining alternatives are appropriate.

Leveraging Resources

Approximately $404,000 of in-kind donations of goods and services were received in 2009 covering program expenses that the charity would otherwise have to pay, as well as special cheering gifts for the families and children. Major in-kind donations include linen service, soft drinks, restaurant coupons for guests, frozen and dry food items, donated dinners, cleaning supplies, daily newspapers, and toys and games for the children and families.

In addition, the leased property on which the House sits is leased at $1/year from Stanford. The annual donated lease amount is currently valued at $228,888.

Additionally, approximately $214,000 of in-kind goods and services were received and used for fundraising through two major annual events, minimizing the cost of producing the events. These fundraising events were designed to best utilize these gifts to raise much needed cash.

Relying on Community Support

With over 85% of revenue coming from contributions, and hundreds of hours of help each week from volunteers; community support is crucial to the House’s success. Room revenue represents less than 10% of the total cost of housing the families who stay at Ronald McDonald House. These fees represent the de minimus room rate paid by the families. Only 30% of the room revenue was derived from the families, based on their ability to pay. The remainder of the room revenue was paid by state-funded agencies, based on eligibility of the families to receive this aid. No family is ever excluded due to inability to pay.

As the room revenue is the only type of “service fee” received, the remaining 90+% of the cost of providing housing is funded by contributions. Although the percentage of funds needed to be raised is astronomically higher than peer organizations, fundraising effectiveness, even in this challenging economy, has been maintained at over 4.5 (4.5 dollars raised for every dollar spent). The fundraising expense percentage is only at a slightly higher rate than other organizations that receive a majority of their funding from service fees. Of the 90+% raised to support the mission of the House, less than 7% comes from McDonald’s Corporation, its franchise owners and their local charity chapter. The remaining 83% comes from individuals, foundations and corporations. It is thanks to the financial support of our greater community that we are able to offer help to families of children with life-threatening illness.

Looking Towards the Future

The demand for the House’s services is growing as the level of care provided by Lucile Packard Children’s Hospital continues to progress and draw sicker children. To meet the expanded population coming from afar for pediatric medical services the House has spent several years actively looking for a way to grow to meet the need. In 2008, their analysis and research grew to a point that expenses for the exploration of a site and its feasibility had to be incurred. To balance those expenses, requests for support for an expansion began. While only a few gifts were received in 2008, many more were secured in 2009.

Part V Endowment Funds Line 1e – Other expenditures for facilities and programs

The House has a policy that provides the Board of Directors the discretion to spend up to 4.5% of the prior three year rolling average of the actual fund's value. In establishing this policy, the House considered the long-term expected return on its endowment. This policy is consistent with the organization's objective to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets held in perpetuity as well as to provide additional growth through new gifts and investment return. The House appropriated $621,431 during the year ended December 31, 2009 for expenditures on operations.

Part V Endowment Funds Line 4 - Intended uses of the organization's endowment funds

The House's endowment consists of three donor restricted funds established for the benefit of the House; the Kroc Fund, the Children's Legacy Fund and the Program Endowment Fund. The Kroc Fund consists of a $500,000 gift from Joan B. Kroc. The Children's Legacy Fund (CLF) began as a gift from the David and Lucille Packard Foundation. The CLF allows donors to stipulate a permanent restriction on all memorial and planned gifts. The Program Endowment Fund consists of contributions to a prior capital campaign that donors gave permission to be transferred to a permanent endowment fund. All endowment gifts stipulate that the principal remain intact and that investment earnings be expended on House operations and activities.

Part X Other Liabilities Line 2 - FIN 48 Footnote

The House has been granted tax-exempt status under Sections 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and 23701(d) of the California Revenue and Taxation Code. In addition, the House has been determined by the Internal Revenue Service not to be a private foundation within the meaning of Section 509(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

The FASB has issued new guidance on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. The House adopted this new guidance for the year ended December 31, 2009. Management evaluated the House's tax positions and concluded that the House had maintained its tax exempt status and had taken no uncertain tax positions that required adjustment to the financial statements. Therefore, no provision or liability for income taxes has been included in the financial statements.

Form 990, Schedule G Supplemental Information Regarding Fundraising or Gaming Activities

Part I Fundraising Activities Question 2b

In 2009 the House contracted with an outside fundraising consultant to create a structure and processes for a fundraising campaign as the foundation for committees led by members of the Board of Directors, community volunteers and staff. Fees incurred for these services were $46,200. The fundraising campaign is anticipated to be multi-year with revenues to be received over several subsequent periods. In 2009 the House received $4,588,025 in cash and pledges toward this campaign which, with previous and subsequent funds raised and reserved funds designated by the Board of Directors, is available for a capital expansion project. The consultant's agreement provides for the reimbursement of actual out of pocket expenses incurred while performing the terms of the agreement including meals, mileage, parking, telephone, and other office expense. Total reimbursed expenses in 2009 were $1,738.

Part II and II Fundraising Events and Gaming

Denim to Diamonds and the Randy Cross Invitational are the two major fundraising events which are held annually along with various other special events. Included as part of the Randy Cross Invitational is a raffle and drawing on the day of the event. Including event associated contributions, total proceeds from special events and the raffle were $1,480,908 and associated expenses were $582,252. Included in these revenue and expense amounts are $214,383 of in-kind contributions of goods and services provided as an integral part of these events. Net proceeds from these events were $897,706.
